LAMINATING

ALL PRINTED materials are vulnerable to damage from wear and tear. Environmental conditions and frequent handling are just some of the factors that can inflict damage on printed materials. The process of lamination encloses paper between two thin sheets of plastic film. Find it locally at The Press 320-289-1323.

Wedding Printing

Prepare for your big day by doing all your wedding printing with Ehrenberg Publishing. From save the dates, invitations and thank you cards to programs and place cards, our printing services include everything you need for a customized and coordinated look. No two couples are the same, so why should your invitation be "stock?" Call, stop in, or email to get started on your custom design.
